CENTS vs. SENSE

One may have an abundance of the former—he will hardly keep it without the latter.

One who has medium of the latter will soon acquire a sufficiency of the former.

Both the man of cents and the man of sense should have an account in this bank.

Business sense demands a bank connection. Common sense adds its endorsement to it.

WELL KNOWN WOMAN SUMMONED BY DEATH

Mrs. P. P. Parker Passed Away Early Yesterday Morning.

Mrs. Susie F. Parker, wife of Captain P. P. Parker, died at the family home, No. 1603 West Adams street, yesterday morning about 4 o'clock, after a long illness involving nervousness and stomach affection, though she had not been acutely sick for a week while, and the news came as an unexpected shock to many of her best friends. Her husband and three of their four children were at the bedside when the end came, the absent member of the family being James A. Parker, who is in Cochise county. Efforts were made to reach him by telegraph yesterday and it is expected he will be here in time for the funeral which will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence. The three children here are Miss Angie B. Parker, Earl H. Parker and H. Clay Parker.

There will be a short service at the house, including a short biographical sketch and musical selections after which the interment will be made under the auspices of Phoenix chapter No. 5, Order of the Eastern Star, of which she was a prominent and a greatly beloved member. She was a charter member of the Phoenix chapter and was also a past matron of the chapter.

The officers and members of the chapter are requested to meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the chapter room of the Masonic temple, where carriages will be provided for all members who will attend the funeral at 4 o'clock. After the house service the procession will move to Greenwood cemetery where the interment service of the Eastern Star ritual will be performed.

Susie F. Hendricks was the daughter of Moses and Amanda Hendricks and was born May 17, 1846, at the Hendricks homestead in Pike county, Missouri. She was married January 26, 1865, at Locust Grove, Missouri, to Prosper Powell Parker. After leaving Missouri they lived for a number of years in Dakota and came to Phoenix February 8, 1890, this city having been their home ever since. They have resided at the residence on West Adams street since August 14, 1892.

NEWEST THING IN COMBS.

The latest novelty in combs is one made of paper. It is made of a hard, smooth finished cardboard. It is not a fine toothed comb; in fact its teeth are like long drawn out saw teeth, but it serves its purpose—you can comb your hair with it.

The paper comb is one to be used once and then thrown away. It is designed for travelers and for use in public baths and in various other places where now might be found combs kept for common use; in such places these combs might be supplied by the establishment free.

It is not costly, the paper comb; put in a waxed paper holder, it is sold at retail for 1 cent.

A FINE ONE, BUT—

At last Cleveland has a new railroad station. It is clean, light, commodious, modern. In all its appointments it is strictly up to date. Architecturally, it is a credit to the city and a joy to the eye. It really leaves nothing to be desired.

PEANUT ROBBERY A DARING CRIME

Mexican Boys Break into Storehouse, and Steal Twenty Pounds of Peanuts.

It has often been said that there are more satisfactory ways of deriving a princely income than from a peanut wagon. The profits are not large under the most favorable circumstances, says the peanut man at the Coliseum, but when circumstances are unfavorable, when competition presses, and when the peanut store house is entered and robbed of all its supplies, the outlook is so discouraging that a panic seems to threaten.

Last Sunday night the peanut house of the Coliseum peanut man was entered by two youthful miscreants, whose tender consciences could not contend successfully against their insatiable appetites. The burglars were two Mexican boys, both very young, and both very hungry. If they had satisfied themselves, however, with taking all they could eat, the peanut man would not have had to go to the police about the matter. Instead of leaving when they had had their fill they proceeded to make away with several bags, and split another open, to spill its contents on the floor. Altogether, when the peanut man came into the storehouse yesterday morning to take stock of his world's goods, he found himself short about twenty pounds. It was a heavy loss, and in order to recover the property or bring the robbers to justice, if possible, he immediately took the matter to Marshal Moore.

When he heard the nature of the case, the chief shook his head, and said, "very grave, very grave," as though there was small chance of discovering the guilty parties. Going to the scene of the robbery, however, he undertook to do what he could, and in a short time the officers were notified to take action on the case. It is possible that the peanut robbery would have remained a mystery through all the remaining years of the Phoenix police department, had not the thieves, finding themselves in need of money, attempted to sell the peanuts to a local fruit and peanut merchant later in the day. They were caught with the peanuts in their possession, and promptly confessed. Their parents were notified, and in a short time they were released. Their parents have been notified, however, to bring them back to the office. The city marshal this morning at 9 o'clock, when they will receive a reprimand and advice on the wickedness of their offense.

ENTIRE SOUTHWEST FEELS RECENT STORM

Mississippi Valley Heat Wave Disappeared Last Sunday.

The northwestern storm center, located over South Dakota and Nebraska at the time of the last charting, moved rapidly eastward yesterday across Michigan and Ontario, causing light to copious rainfall during its passage over the North Atlantic states, the Ohio, the upper St. Lawrence, and the upper Mississippi valleys, and the lake region.

The heat wave that covered the northeastern states and the upper Mississippi valley has entirely disappeared, under the influence of the eastern high pressure that moved out to sea yesterday. The moderate cool wave in attendance upon the North Pacific high pressure area, advancing rapidly inland over the great plains states, has effected a general reduction in temperature of 8 to 14 degrees over the Arkansas, the Missouri and the upper Mississippi valleys. The Arizona-Mexico storm center made no progressive movement during the last 48 hours, but in connection with the rapidly advancing high pressure from the northwest has caused high winds generally over the southwest. There is a general increase in temperature of 6 to 14 degrees over the Rocky Mountain region. Cloudiness prevailed over the southwest yesterday, and also over the Great Lakes and the North Atlantic states. Sunshine elsewhere.

The highest temperature recorded yesterday was 84 degrees at Charleston. The lowest was 44 degrees at North Platte. Fog was reported from San Diego. Rainfall was reported from Montreal, where there was a precipitation of 1.36 inches, and from New York city, where there was a precipitation of 1.26 inches. Winds of 48 miles per hour velocity occurred at Pittsburg and of 40-mile velocity at New York city. Thunderstorms were reported from Pittsburg, Spokane and Montreal. Pressure conditions indicate fair weather for this locality today, with not much change in temperature.

Nut Cake

Simply Delicious

By Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill, Editor of the Boston Cooking School Magazine

In giving this recipe, Mrs. Hill believes it to be one of the best all-around cake recipes it has been her good fortune to make. The simplicity and uniformly good results will appeal to every housewife.

K C Nut Cake

One-half cup butter; 1 1/2 cups granulated sugar; 3/4 cup milk; 2 cups flour; 2 level teaspoons K C Baking Powder; 1 cup of nut meats chopped fine; whites of 4 eggs, beaten dry.

Sift flour and baking powder together, three times. Cream the butter, add the sugar; then alternately, the milk and the flour mixture; lastly the whites of eggs and the nut meats. Bake in a sheet in a shallow pan thirty or forty minutes. When cold cover with the icing and decorate with whole nut meats.

This is also an excellent white cake recipe when nuts are omitted.

Chocolate Icing

One cup granulated sugar; 1/2 ounce chocolate; white of 1 egg, beaten dry; 1/2 teaspoonful vanilla extract; 1/4 cup water.

Stir the sugar, chocolate and water until the mixture boils; cover and let boil three minutes. Uncover and let boil till when tested in cold water a soft ball may be formed; beat into the white of egg, then beat until cold, add vanilla.

The nut caramel frosting given on page forty of the K C Cook's Book may be used in place of the chocolate frosting, if desired. A copy of the Cook's Book, handsomely illustrated in 9 colors, will be mailed free, if you will send the colored certificate tucked in 2-cent cans of K C Baking Powder to the Jagers Bros. Co., Chicago.
